

“We need new rules better designed for the realities of today’s politics. Given our increasingly dysfunctional government and the appeal of third party challengers, pressure will grow on partisan dinosaurs to step aside and embrace a new politics waiting to be born: one that puts voters – and our nation – first.”

Former Congressman John B. Anderson
FairVote Co-Founder & 1980 Presidential Candidate

2011 ★ Year of Achievement

RCV

Six cities, including San Francisco and Portland (ME), hold successful ranked choice elections.

NPV

California and Vermont join compact, bringing total electoral votes to 132 of the needed 270.

PR

Op-eds published in a dozen major newspapers promoting proportional voting for U.S. House.

FairVote.org